For Closet Doors.

A novel window screen, recently seen in an up-to-date nursery, was both useful and ornamental. It was originated by the mother to keep out the draught and to protect the children from feeling the chill, which is often the precursor of a heavy cold or the croup.

The screen consisted of a flat, padded cushion of figured chintz, which hung in front of the lower sesh. It was kept in place by means of small frings, covered with a bow of ribbon, which fastened on small hooks screwed into the sash.

To sit properly upon a chair is of itself a high art of etiquette. Crossing the Few people realize what an important feature of diet nuts can be made. They violation of good manners, is no longer feature of diet nuts can be made. They are not only the cheapest source of energy, but the best. The little husks on them are not nourishing, but they aid the digestion, so should be eaten.

Nuts will keep you firm, give energy, and, if you do not work too hard, make you fat, but do not eat them unless you give up meat, as they are a substitute, not a food accessory.

They can be made into soups, used in sandwiches and salads. They should be eaten, with salt and with fruit and are very wholesome.
